

A General Look at Human Pheromones

Love has always intrigued many people and has most people baffled. Why you are attracted to certain people have a lot to do with the human pheromones that exist in just about every living thing on the planet.

Without these chemicals and elements released by the human body, a life long mate would be even more difficult to find than it is right now. There have been many studies on human nature and certain behaviors who have revealed that pheromones are the main cause of why we are interested in someone, especially sexually.

“ Men and women have different pheromones and men are said to release most of theirs if they sweat. Both male and female pheromones are usually picked up through the olfactory senses of the opposite sex; however, there are studies that show which some of these sensory tend to be sensitive to the pheromones of the same sex.
