

Advantages of wearing Pheromone Products

Have you ever heard of pheromone colognes and perfumes? According to many of those that tried using those products, they said that these helped them in their efforts to attract the opposite sex. So how effective are pheromone products as an attractant?

Advantages of using Pheromone Products According to many scientists that study the effects of human pheromones, the main pheromone advantage of using such products is with its effectiveness as an attractant.

Although more commonly known among animals and insects, humans are also known to produce the same chemicals used by animals and insects to attract the opposite sex. And in accordance with those studies, several different hormones that the body excretes and secretes have such pheromones. One of those studied by scientists is the Axillary Steroids.

Human Pheromones There are three different Axillary Steroids that the human body generates that acts as pheromones. These are the Androstenol, Androstenone, and Androstadienone.

Androstenol is the Putative Feminine Pheromone

In a study by Kirk-Smith, people wearing surgical masks treated with androstenol or untreated were shown pictures of people, animals and buildings and asked to rate the pictures on attractiveness. Those that have their masked treated with androstenol rated their pictures as being 'warmer' as well as 'more friendly'

Androstenone, on the other hand, are what men are utilizing when detecting an ovulating woman. It is hypothesized that this may be a way for a male to identify a good ovulation woman who would be more willingly to be involved in sexual interaction.

- This pheromone is said to be only secreted by males being an attractant for women and is also thought to be a positive effector for their mood.
- Depending on where a woman is in her menstrual cycle, the pheromones seem to have different effects on women.
- Another putative pheromone is androstadienone.
- This kind of steroid seems to have an effect on the limbic system as well as brings about a positive reaction in women, often improving their moods.

Using Pheromones as an Attractant Pheromones, according to those research, play a vital role in getting the opposite sex for procreation, or even for "one-night-stands". Because of this, many researchers have searched for ways on how to further increase this. This is when the number of various pheromone products was released in the market.

According to numerous experts, some of the most effective pheromone merchandise is those that came from human pheromones, and the advantage of using this is that it increases a person's likeliness to attract the opposite sex through only pheromones.
