

How to tell that She's Not Into You

Rejection comes in many forms. There is the polite and firm 'no' and there is the subtle 'no'. Then there is 'maybe'. This third one is perhaps, most difficult to deal with, since the mixed signals could foster some hope that the situation may yet be turned around. When blossoms, phone calls, text messages, baubles as well as the occasional serenade haven't worked, perhaps you're ready to try synthetic human pheromones.

- The human body is known to secrete some synthetic human pheromones within the sweat glands.
- These kinds of neurotransmitters affect the recipient's behavior, mostly acting as sexual attractants.
- How can you be sure that the sweat glands are exuding the right stuff?
- You can't really, unless you are using pheromone formulations from a reliable source.
- So once you have done your due diligence and you're still not feeling the love, take another reading of the situation.
- If you observe some or all of the following, it might be time to move on.

The object of your affection can find time in her big busy schedule for three-hour mani-pedi-shampoo-style sessions but she can not pencil you in for half an hour at Starbucks, alarm bells should be buzzing. When it seems like she can make time for everyone except you, then the message will be, you are so far down in her food string of concerns. She might not get to you in this lifetime. Time to give it up and jump back in the dating pool. Assuming your persistence pays off and you also manage to score a date, but she spends the time texting, admiring the woman's nails or playing 'Angry Birds' on her android, she's really not into you.

When women sense potential in their date, they spend the time collecting information in order to file for future reference. So unless the story has been around "Vanity Fair" recently, your date's inattention is a sure giveaway that it might be time to revise your report on the relationship websites. When you're spending some alone time with her and she allows, even encourages, lady friends, kids, dogs and the pizza person in order to disrupt, she probably has moved on but you just don't know it yet.

An Interested Woman Would Value Your Time and Effort Together

She would plan, prepare and relish these special times. If she's not showering you with the attention you deserve, it's time to reduce your losses and go hang with the guys and their Buds in their man caves. If she unfriends you on Facebook or perhaps won't respond to your friend requests on LinkedIn, that should be an obvious sign that you are not in the circle of trust, probably not even in the circle of interest. Refrain from creating that overwrought email.

Pheromone Perfume Using a pheromone perfume is one of the essentials of looking great and radiant. In using this product although, you should make sure that you make full use of its total potentials. Many people use this generously but unfortunately spend most of it...*

Focus Your Efforts on Something Productive

You call her and the number has been changed. You never got in which mass email advising everyone of her new get in touch with information. No, it's not a glitch. It's intentional and she is not being mean to you. You probably crossed the line between fatal attraction and criminal stalking some time back. You really need to get a grip and let this one go.

Because pheromones attract are sex specific and each produce unique effects, the synthetic chemical content of pheromone cologne differs. Some may contain androstenone that can be found in both men and women but is more predominantly male. These kinds of formulas give the individual a dominating, aggressive, and also slightly intimidating aura that drives sexual attraction and enhances others respectful actions.

- When you sense that she is really not really into you, don't take it as an affront to your charming personality.
- You can not let one rejection destroy you when there are other opportunities.
- It's a big, wide world filled with seven billion people.
- Keep on trying.
